

As Open Field Training Grows, So Does the Need for Elite Coaches

Open Field Training is expanding.

As demand rises and more athletes commit to the Open Field standard, the demand for high-level coaches and specialists will rise alongside it.

We are building real infrastructure — not just training programs.

Our first priority is elite on-field development, but Open Field is designed to support the entire athlete ecosystem.

What We Are Building

Open Field Training is creating a connected performance network capable of supporting athletes at every stage of their journey.

This includes:

- Position & Skill Development Coaches
- Strength & Conditioning Coaches
- Athletic Trainers & Recovery Specialists
- Nutritionists & Performance Dietitians
- Mentors & Player Development Leaders
- Scouts & Evaluators

Our vision is to handle not only how athletes train — but how they prepare, recover, grow, and advance.

The Standard

Open Field is not for everyone.

We are building with people who:

- Value structure and accountability
- Respect preparation and repetition
- Believe development should be documented and measurable
- Understand that trust is earned through consistency
- Put the athlete first while upholding the standard

This is long-term infrastructure, not short-term content.

Do You Fit the Mold?

If you believe in:

- Teaching before selling
- Standards before shortcuts
- Development over hype

And you see yourself contributing to the future of athlete preparation —

we want to hear from you.

Get In Touch

If you believe you fit the Open Field mold, please reach out directly.

 Email: ceo@openfieldtraining.com

Include: - Your role or specialty - Background and experience - Why you believe in the Open Field standard

TRAIN. DOMINATE. RISE.

© Open Field Training™. All rights reserved.